An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

The Abstract was deleted and replaced as follows:

A device to provide assistance in drawing back the bowstring of a crossbow, including a shaft rotatably connected through the butt of the crossbow and having first and second sides. At least a first rope is fixed to a first side of the shaft, and extends to a hook, for receiving the crossbow string. A handle is attached to the hook for manually drawing back the bowstring. The shaft is rotatably biased to wind the rope around the shaft as the hook is drawn back.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art does not disclose a crossbow cocking device including a shaft member rotatably connected to the butt of the crossbow; a rope member fixedly attached to the shaft member and extending to a hook member which receives the bow string; and a handle connected to the hook for manually drawing back the bow string. Bednar 6,286,496 shows a crossbow cocking system including a shaft 22, and rope 44 connected between the shaft and hook member 46 attached to the bow string, but the shaft is rotated by a motor to draw the bowstring back, and no handle needs to be attached to the hook member. Bednar also shows a hook member 80 having attached ropes 83, 85 connected to handles 95, but since the ropes extend between the hook and handles, it would not be possible to provide a shaft member to wind the ropes.
